4	Type-A is better for discussing the topic because it has a leader who can put everyone's opinions together by looking at his or her face. Someone must make a decision because the survey shows there are many different opinions among students. So, the leader can decide what is most important after they have a discussion. (55 words)
	Type-B is better for discussing the topic because seeing each other's faces helps students express his or her opinions more freely. The survey shows there are many different opinions among students, so we need an open discussion. Type-B lets students work together and listen more carefully to these opinions before deciding.
